COTTON CROP GAINS ON FEDERAL FORECAST Oklahoma Ballots Today Without Bloodshed

GOVERNOR'S CHIEF CONCEDES ELECTION

First Returns Show a Big Majority for Initiative Act

MANY CITIZENS ARE ARRESTED

Thousands Are Armed
As State Votes on Legal Phase

(By Associated Press.)
MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 2.—Special dispatch to the Muskogee Times from Muskogee gives the following unofficial vote on the question at issue up to 11 o'clock.
Total vote for 286, against 37. The respondent added that this represents a third of the city's normal vote.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 2.—Two men carrying commissions from the headquarters of Governor Walton's civilian guard were arrested at 10 o'clock by police. They were charged with carrying concealed weapons and lodging in the city jail. Police chief Mc-Gowan announced that every armed person without a deputy sheriff's warrant will be thrown into jail.

GROVE, Okla., Oct. 2.—More than half dozen leading citizens of Grove were arrested here today by Deputy Sheriff Grover Monroe and County Sheriff Jack Perry for conducting the election.

The officers stated that they had instructions from Chairman Mitchell
of the state election board and Governor Walton to stop the voting.

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., Oct. 2.—
At 7:30 o'clock upward of 300
couples were assembled at the courthouse steps in readiness for service anywhere in the county to avoid any interference with the balloting. The weather was cloudy.

A statement from R. R. Stevens, head of Governor's force in the county, declared "that the special election
already won by the Klan."

"We concede we are beaten before the election is held. We have received several reports that ballot boxes have been stuffed. As the boxes are in charge of the sheriff's gunmen, we have not been able to investigate the report."

"It is apparent that armed interference by representatives of the Klan
and the manipulation of the election applies already has destroyed the integrity of the ballot."

"The storm that raged through Oklahoma the last few days, causing thousands of armed citizens to place themselves at the disposal of regular county and city officers has revolved about the following few short paragraphs that appeared at the end of the long ballot handed voters today:

"To provide a method for promptly overturning the legislature for investigating the conduct of state officials subject to impeachment and for such action of the law as the facts may warrant under the provisions of Article of the Constitution, call for such assembly of the legislature to be made upon written request, signed by majority of the members of the legislature."

"Legislature so convened are for-bidden to pass laws or appropriate public funds except as may be necessary for proper performance of duties provided under article 8 of the constitution."

Guarded Governor Walton in Oklahoma "War"

Col. Zack Mulhall

Colonel Zack Mulhall, an old-time Oklahoma plainsman, is a member of the personal bodyguard of Governor J. C. Walton, of Oklahoma, in his war on the Ku Klux Klan. The Governor's life was said by his friends to be in danger, and they took no chances.

DIPHTHERIA APPEARS IN MOGAN COUNTY

Owing to the prevalence of diphtheria in some parts of the county,
Dr. H. C. McRee, the county health officer, desires that the greatest care
be exercised to prevent the spread of the disease.

He advises among other things that where a positive case of diphteria has appeared that two tests be made at intervals of ten days. Dr. McRee explained that physicians made the required tests by taking cultures for the throat and examining them for the presence of the diphteria germs.

No patients should be released from quarantine if either of the tests asked for show the least symptoms of the disease. Young children are especially in danger from the attacks of the diphteria germs as their throats have so little power of resistance.

Diphteria germs do appear elsewhere, but they are most apt to appear in the throat.

DOCTORS QUIZZED IN DEATH OF WOMAN

(Associated Press.)
WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 2.— District Attorney Roland today questioned Dr. W. J. Meyer regarding the mysterious circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Charles Webb, wealthy New York and Chicago society woman, at the Westchester Bilmore country club there Tuesday. Dr.
Meyer attended Mrs. Webb during her illness and refused to issue a death certificate.

The district attorney announced
that he intended also to question Mrs.
Robert Johnstone, a life-long friend of Mrs. Webb, who kept a diary, in which she recorded events for some time before her friend's death. Mrs.
Johnstone previously had told newspaper men she would be glad to tell anything she knew and charged that Mrs. Webb had been murdered by someone whom she declined to name.

THIRTEEN HELD.
Thirteen local people are under bond in connection with a charge of gaming, it was stated by a deputy sheriff this morning, who added that the men were arrested on the Danville road. It was stated there were some thirty in the company, but all but 13
made good their escape in the darkness.

only six out of 28 were open.
Johnston County appeared to be the only place in the state where the Climmaron and Harper counties were not voting because supplies had not been received from the state election board and in Jefferson County a ballot shortage kept most of the polls closed.

From every point in the state the reports indicated the election was proceeding quietly. Voting began in Tulsa County under guard of more than 1,500 armed deputies, under County Sheriff Sanford.

AUTOMOBILE TAX IS DUE AND PAYABLE

Property Tax Must Be Paid Before Tags
Are Issued

NEW METHOD IN FORCE THIS YEAR

Much Information Now Must Be Given by Auto Owners

Automobile taxes are now due court house officials announced this morning. The work of the last legislature is seen in the new arrangements for automobile taxation. The two main differences as to taxes under the new law are first, all taxes must be paid before a license is issued and before Judge Troup will "tag" your car, you must also show a "certificate of title."

Application blanks for an automobile license and for a motor vehicle title are obtainable and they are on separate blanks. Statements made at the time licenses are secured have to be sworn to, and to get a title license a great many questions have to be answered. For instance the official has to be told who has a lien on your car, if any, the place where the car was bought, the dealer's address being given, etc. The amount owed on the car has to be recorded, what model
it is, the serial number, the registration number, the engine number, the make of the car, etc.

Some personal questions must be answered such as your occupation.
Moreover, it will be impossible to get a tag until all taxes on the car are paid. If a car has been bought prior to May 15, 1923, the taxes on it must be paid before a license will be issued.
First of all the tax assessor, H. O.
Troup, must be visited, and the car valued, then the valuation certificate is taken to the tax collector, Rev. J.
H. Hill and pay him your tax; then take the tax receipt to Judge L. P.
Troup, and that official will issue the license. Keep this more or less unpleasant truth ever before you: No license will be issued unless the tax receipt is produced. No tags on motor vehicles will be issued unless the tax receipt is produced. Taxes on motor vehicles, plus the tax fees and license fees are $3.80 per hundred dollars valuation. And the license fees are as follows, according to the H. P. of your machine: Over 40 H. P. $30, and when less than 40 H. P. the cost is graduated as follows: Class A, $11.25; Class
B, $18.75; Class C, $24.25.

A car valued at $800 will cost you to "license" it provided it is less than 40 H. P., title fee $1.00; license
$11.25; tax $26.40, or eight times
$3.30. Sum total equals $38.65.
If the car is valued at over $800 its owner pays $3.30 for each additional $100 valuation and still more if the car's H. P. goes beyond 24. Finally, every automobile owner is expected to be prompt and not crowd on the court house officials during the last few hours before the tax becomes delinquent.

Limestone County In Daily's Contest

Athens, Ala., Limestone County, is represented in the Decatur Daily Albany contest by Miss Louise Ryan,
who is very popular among all of her friends and promises to be among the winners on November 17.

MAKE HAY NOW'S ADVICE IN DAILY'S BIG VOTE CAMPAIGN

Workers Who Pile Up Subscriptions Early Will Have Advantage Later on in Drive—Now Is the Time for Alert People to Get Busy—Vote
Schedule Will Positively Not Be Changed.

This much is certain, as the final hour approaches, that only those who persevere in their efforts right up to the very last moment can hope to win. That is true because of the even amounts turned in to date, making it a certainty that only those who secure every possible subscription can hope to put across the winning goal.

Some speculation is going the rounds as to whether the winner will come from the city or the outside territory. As stated several days ago
there is little to choose in the results
the two districts are producing. With the many workers in the city pitted against the very few who represent the outlying districts, the possibilities are so evenly divided that nothing short of a last minute burst of speed
will bring victory to either section.

While the first votes period ends
next Saturday there will be no change

SPECIAL OFFICER IS SHOT, NEGRO ALSO

Both Are Removed to Hospitals After
the Affray

OFFICERS PROBE THE CASE TODAY

No Arrests Made Yet.
Parson Said to Have Answered Fire

A double shooting, which may result fatally to one of the participants, occurred on the Southern Railway freight car yards near the union station last night.

As a result of the shooting, Special Officer Parsons, of the Southern Railway, who shot a negro named Rufus Garth in the right arm and right shoulder, is lying in the Benevolent hospital where he was taken last night about 8 o'clock by Dr. W. C.
Bailey, immediately after the shooting.

Parsons was shot by the negro
through the fleshy part of his left thigh. The gun shot wound in the leg is not regarded as dangerous, the bullet having passed out of the leg. On the other hand, the wound inflicted by Mr. Parsons was a serious one, buck shot having been used. It is said the arm and shoulder of the negro are in such a condition, as that serious complications are apt to arise. It is expected that the arm of the negro will have to be amputated at the shoulder.

The negro is now in the Cottage Home Infirmary, and at noon was resting fairly well.

Near eight o'clock last night gun shots were heard at the Southern freight yards and police officers went in the direction from which the sounds
came, to find the negro Rufus Garth, wounded. He was later taken to the Cottage Home Infirmary.

Officers state that the negro was wounded by Officer Parsons, who had noticed three negroes near a loaded car of the railroad company. Parsons was fired upon when he started to arrest the negroes, it is said, and he returned the fire. Garth was shot to the ground, it is said, and his wound was so severe he made no attempt to escape, but was carried to the negro hospital. Mr. Parsons was taken by Dr. Bailey to the Benevolent hospital and treated there. City police officers have been in conference with Special Officer Warwick today of the Southern railroad. No arrests have as yet been made.

Daily Carriers to Attend Princess

Members of The Daily carrier force will attend the Princess theatre tonight as guests of the management to see "Java Head" and Harold Lloyd in what is said to be one of his best screen performances. The generosity of the management will be deeply appreciated by the youngsters.

The carriers were requested to meet at the Daily office at 7:00 o'clock.

TO HEAR REPORTS.

The pastor's union, at its meeting on Monday, will hear reports on the number of accessions to local churches
as a result of the Ham-Ramsey revival, it was announced by a prominent member of the union this morning.

OWNER OF NEW YORK GIANTS UNDER INDICTMENT

Charles A. Stoneham

Charles A. Stoneham, multi-millionaire owner of the New York Giants, is under indictment by a Federal Grand Jury, in New York City, on the charge of prejury, resulting from the testimony he gave before the referee in bankruptcy in the hearing of the case of Fuller & McGee, stockbrokers, who failed for $5,000,000. Stoneham's checks to the firm, he swore, were loans, made at the solicitation of Thomas A. Foley, Tammany leader. It is alleged in the indictment that $175,000 "loan" was really Stoneham's one-quarter interest in the failed firm. Stoneham, before he bought the Giants, was a leading
New York Stockbroker.

Golden Machine Is Being Primed For Cullman High Here Friday Afternoon

The golden draped football machine
of Central high school is being primed for Friday afternoon, when it will encounter what is likely to be the toughest spot along the way to gridiron heights.

A couple of hours before sunset
Friday, the local eleven will hurl itself against the brawny sons of Cullman County in what promises to be a most hectic struggle for yardage.

Cullman County has made but two appearances against local eleven in their history and on both occasions broken local hopes were strawn about the battlefield. Last year Cullman overran Decatur high's light eleven along the pathway of time, in 1919, Cullman on the local field smote
championship chances to smithereens.

That was the year Alexander, Carr,
Ling and Royer provided the purple and gold with a scoring combination par excellence, but at the same time Cullman had Burkhardt and scads of others almost as good who rung up a 12 to 0 count against the locals.

Never before did the purple backfield function so well, never before did the sterling line of '19 throw back opponent's charges in such vicious manner. Out-charged, out-fought but NOT out-lucked, Cullman's alert squad took advantage of every slip to push across a couple of touchdowns.

Wells Honored by American Bankers

Clyde Hendrix, one of the Alabama
delegates to the American Bankers'
Annual Convention in Atlantic City, has returned home.

Mr. Hendrix expressed himself as very much pleased with the election of Oscar Wells, president of the First National Bank of Birmingham, as second vice-president of the national organization, which means that in two years time Mr. Wells will succeed to the presidency of the Association.
Mr. Hendrix stated that Alabama stood 28th among the states represented at the convention in point of delegates present. He said that Alabama far outstripped the surrounding states of Georgia, Florida and Mississippi, although those states had many more banks than Alabama.

Mr. Hendrix stated that he saw and talked with J. W. Worthington, while in Washington, and remarked that the great promoter of the Ford bid for Muscle Shoals remained confident of the success of Ford's plans when Congress meets.

MARKET HAS A DAY OF UPS AND DOWNS

Ginning Figures Low as Prices Soar Only to Tumble Later

ALABAMA CROP IS 741,000 BALES

Larger Crop Than Last Season Predicted by Government

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, October 2.—The cotton crop, larger by a million and a quarter bales than last year, was forecast today by the department of agriculture, which placed production at 11,016,000 bales. The forecast, the last of the season until the December estimate, was 227,000 bales more than indicated last month.

The forecast was based on the crop September 25, which was 49.5 per cent of normal, indicating a yield of 137.7 pounds per acre. A month ago the crop was forecast at 10,789,000 bales. Last year's crop was 9,741-817 bales.

Alabama's condition and yield was 42 per cent of normal and estimated at 741,000 bales.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The unexpected small ginning figures reported by the census bureau this morning
coupled with strong Liverpool news, caused a jump of 31 to 43 points in cotton prices at the opening.

This was quickly followed by further upturns that carried the October contract to 29.55 and December to 29.19, or over $4.00 a bale above Monday's close and within 90 points of the season's high level.

Publication of the government's condition report later, however, swung the market violently the other way and within 10 minutes prices had dropped fully 150 to 180 points, or from $7.00 to $6.80 a bale. December sold as low as 27.55, January 27.00.

Records Broken By Athens Fair

The Limestone County Fair at Athens this year broke all attendance records, according to an announcement by R. H. Walker, the popular secretary. Mr. Walker announced gate receipts as follows:
First day $537; second day $2619;
third day $2413.

This amount exceeded by $31 the gate receipts of last year.

NEGRO SOUGHT

Sheriff C. E. Poole is on his way to Cleveland, Ohio, in quest of a negro named Marvin Garth, wanted here on a charge of seduction. Relatives of the girl alleged to have been wronged by Garth, have put up a cash bond to insure the costs for the trial of the negro, and for his arrest and return to Alabama.

HOME IMPROVED.

The residence of A. B. Harvey on Glyndon Drive, West, is undergoing extensive repairs and will be remodeled.
The house, formerly a one-story building, is to be two stories in height when completed.

PORCH TORN AWAY.

The narrow porch on the block of buildings, adjoining the Colonial building on the north, is being torn away by workmen today, who stated that the porch would not be replaced.

COTTON MARKET.

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Cotton futures opened firm, October 29.00;
December 28.60; January 28.80;
March 28.30; May 28.25.

Delegates Named by Horace King Camp

A goodly company of Horace King Camp of Confederate veterans will journey to Huntsville at three o'clock this afternoon, to attend the two days encampment of Alabama Confederate veterans which opens in that city tonight.

Not nearly so many local veterans have attended the reunions of late years, as so many have passed over to a great reunion beyond the grave. At a meeting of the camp,
the following were named delegates:
G. R. Sullivan and J. W. Johnson. At-ternates: W. B. Newsome and T. E.
Boggs.

"Ford and Fertilizer" shall be a new slogan.

Definition of an old-timer—a person who believes still that prize fights are illegal.

The Greeks doubtless wish there was nothing left of Mussolini but a grease spot.

If the ten commandments were censored would anybody know it?

Lloyd George may have a fairly peaceable visit in America, if he does not attempt to lecture.

Honest criticisms often come from those who overestimate our ability, and hence expect too much.

A business axiom that is believed in half-hearted kind of way—that in a trade all concerned benefit by it.

Mussolini has restored Corfu the buildings on the island, but he cannot replace those human bodies he caused to be separated from their souls.

THE NEW FERRY ARRANGEMENT SHOULD MEAN A STEP FORWARD

The purpose and intent of the bill introduced and passed by Senator Melvin Hutson at Montgomery relative to ferries here, is to make it possible for the farmers of the Tennessee Valley to pass and repass across the Tennessee river here, free or at a nominal cost. Next to a free wagon bridge across the river here, such a ferry arrangement will be most advantageous.

As more and more the problem of marketing produce becomes the really big question—even bigger than the production of crops and manufactured goods—the matter of transportation on land and sea and across large rivers should receive most careful and painstaking consideration.

The river here is an impediment to trade and business. Just all hands get together in the every day affairs of life to remove any obstacle—just as the early farmers joined forces for a barn raising or for any other large tasks, all hands here should join together to devise ways and means for making a ferry agreement that will benefit every man, woman and child in this entire section.

It is understood that under the new law, the city must operate one or more ferries here, or lease out the operation of the ferries.

The city is facing the same kind of a problem Florence faced regarding the bridge across the Tennessee river near that city. Florence people solved the problem of furnishing a "free bridge" for the people, by the citizens of Florence going down in their pockets and raising $5,000 a year—the cost of the lease on the bridge. It seems that this city can get free passage for the people in this section across the Tennessee river here, at a much less cost than $5,000 yearly.

In fact, after the initial costs are paid for establishing up-to-date ferries here, the ferries should pay for their operation, and finally cease to be a burden to the tax payers.

It remains to be seen what can be done and what should be done about the use of the new franchise rights as touching the ferries here. It might be well for those interested to examine into the way municipal ferries are operated in other cities.

A CITY WITHOUT NEWSPAPERS

The English speaking peoples of the world's biggest city are just emerging from a decidedly uncomfortable but quite, oh quite, illuminating experience. For a fortnight, they have been deprived of their local newspapers through the operation of the "outlaw pressmen's strike."

True, the isolation was not complete, for there were Newark, Philadelphia and other not too distant cities where the newspapers were published. But the isolation was the result of the strike.

seemed to fairly grin as it found a place on empty newstands away up on fashionable Fifth Avenue and Central Park West.

But these were but sad substitutes for Father Knickerbocker's favorite breakfast food and Mother Knickerbocker's favorite evening pabulum. For 10 days nobody missed the newspapers. For 10 days, at least, the critic who knew how a newspaper ought to be run and what he'd do if they'd only put him in charge, was strangely silent.

Department stores put out great circulars giving lists of their "special sales" but there was no way of distributing the same.

Theatres and movies could make no announcements except through the bill boards and electric signs and unless folks came down town, how could they see em' and if they didn't know there was something new on, why should they come down town?

But probably the most serious blow was that involved in the loss of the "want columns." One leading advertising expert estimated the loss from this source alone to advertisers and patrons was not far short of $5,000,000.

"What's the news?" asked mother, and father only grunted uncomfortably and wondered when the strike would be over.

It is said that the great strike has cost the publishers of New York dailies millions of dollars, but the increased public appreciation of what newspapers mean to a community, the loss actually was a mighty good investment.

A VISIT FROM A WORLD WAR HERO

The announcement that David Lloyd George will not attempt to lecture when he arrives in America, will be heard with joy and gladness.

The people are sick and tired of almost all kinds of lectures, especially such as are generally delivered by our foreign visitors.

The addresses of M. Clemenceau were heard with tolerance and the news stories on the lectures and speeches of the distinguished Frenchman were read with indifference.

Premier Briand, of France, was defeated for office after his visit to America, and accomplished little or nothing in America for his country.

Lloyd George professes to have no special mission in this country only just to see "a progressive people building a new continent," as he expressed it.

Mr. George will fare much better over here than did Clemenceau and Briand. He is capable of adapting himself to circumstances, and is said to be perfectly familiar with politics and it is "worked" in the United States.

The accomplishments of Lloyd George despite his reputation for being an opportunist and a politician of the very smooth variety, put him among the three or four great statesmen of his day.

He took hold of the munition industry in England when soldiers of the Central Powers were mowing the allied armies down very rapidly and he soon furnished the English armies with up-to-date and usable shells. He was next called on to relieve Premier Asquith, and his service as head of the British empire in war, cannot well be overestimated. It is said that George was in close touch with every military move made by Sir Douglas Haig, and that later when General Foch came into supreme command of all the allied armies the little Welchman was still a trusted advisor.

Many believe that just as President Wilson came into command at a very opportune time to help the world against the German armies, that also the efforts of Lloyd George restored the morale and power of the English when they were about to fail on the field of battle.

George was the last of the powerful men of the World war time to relinquish his power. He proved to be a veritable world beater when it came to weathering political gales. What ever history may say at last about the ability of Mr. George, the people of his own time have regarded him as one of the smartest men of this age.

The political enemies of George are quoted as saying he was smart and clever, but that he was not moved by great purposes. His friends say the Welch preachers son was moved by the highest motives. They say that just so surely as Queen Elizabeth saved England in her day, that David Lloyd George saved his country during the World war and for many years thereafter.

It is said that in America George looms larger as a world statesman than he does in England, where he has so many political enemies. Americans believe George is one of the great men of the World war and they rank him with Woodrow Wilson, General Foch and General Pershing.

Staunch Leader Two-Fuel Two-Oven Range

Two things are required of every article of furnishing that goes into your home—beauty and utility. Why not apply the same rule to your kitchen?

The Staunch Leader, glistening and graceful, is beauty personified. It fairly radiates cheer and a desire to serve. It makes your kitchen a place of pride and the hours spent there a pleasure.

And as for utility and convenience—we need only remind you that this range was designed by a woman stove dealer, a domestic science teacher and a successful housewife—three women who know what range perfection should be. They have built that perfection into the Staunch Leader and present it to women everywhere.

Two complete ranges in one with two separate ovens and double cooking space—uses coal or gas or both at once without the removal of a single part or the turn of a damper. Mirror top that requires no blacking, blue or gray enameled all over so that a damp cloth is all the cleaning it needs. These are only a part of the superiorities of the Staunch Leader.

Perfect oven ventilation and heat control that insures success in roasting and baking—arrangement of top improved for greater convenience in cooking, absence of complicated parts to get out of order—these are other things that the women who designed it put into the Staunch Leader for other women to delight in.

We want all our friends to see this wonderful new range and to know all about it.

How Madge Tried to Solve One Very Pressing Problem.

THE doorway upon which I had stumbled evidently was the entrance to the kitchen of the doctor's quarters, and a more immaculate place I never hope to see.

There was a cheeriness in its homely comfort, also, which does not always accompany scrupulous cleanliness. The woodwork was painted in yellow paint, the window-panes were shining—and with the help of a good deal of dust, that meant in terms of constant care, I well knew—and upon the walls, where they could catch every bit of the scanty sunlight, were six scarlet geraniums, those hardiest soldiers of the indoor garden.

A gas range glittered with the high polish only hard rubbing could give its surface, and the faucets of the sink might have been made of some precious metals. The floor boards were scrubbed white, and on them lay a brightly-colored rug. A table covered with a red cloth stood against the wall, and beside it in a rocking chair with scarlet cushions, sat the presiding genius of the room, whom I had known only as the somewhat taciturn wife of the genial old janitor.

She was a fat old woman with an unwieldy body, and a face colored with blue which I had first seen her, I had interpreted as those of pain. This surmise had been confirmed later by her nervous husband, who did an occasional bit of heavy cleaning for me, and who had benighted the "bad pains" from which his wife suffered.

A kindly suggestion. I had deduced rheumatism, and now I had proof of my diagnosis in her swollen feet. Cared in woolen stockings, they rested on a cushion before her, while a pair of old-fashioned "carpet slippers," large enough for a man, lay beside her chair.

She greeted my unexpected appearance at her door with a smile which lit up her plain features. "Come in, Miss Graham, and please excuse me," she said, simply. "My feet are very bad to-day. I can't stand on my feet any longer. Did you want Mr. Schwartz? He must be around here somewhere. Sit down till he comes."

"Thank you," I said, promptly drawing a chair nearer her and sitting down. "I saw she would be more at her ease with me seated. I do want to see your husband. He has promised to show me some apartments this morning for a relative of mine."

"Yes, I know," she interpolated. "He told me. Of course I shouldn't say anything, but if I were in your place, I would take the one on

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 3.

The prospects for a satisfactory day, either in business or domestic interest, may be somewhat negative by certain adverse rulings of the planets. Although there may be opportunity for important change or travel, which should ultimately bring worthwhile benefits, yet this should be embraced with much deliberation, especially by those in the employment of others, who are under a hazardous way for the present. The same caution should be observed in making changes or decisions in affairs of the heart and the home, since these are also under an unfriendly Venus.

Those whose birthday it is are urged to embrace with caution all opportunities for change or travel. While wisely manipulated openings may bring benefit, they should not be too eagerly grasped. Those in the employment of others are not favored. A child born on this day may be inclined to pleasure rather than to industry unless it is given careful training in early life.

WINIFRED BLACK WRITES ABOUT Flappers at Forty

Copyright, 1923, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

A LEARNED judge of California has been addressing the Presbyterian Synod in that State, and during his practical speech the judge touched upon some of the social problems of the day. He came, of course, toward the climax of his address, upon the burning subject of the "flapper."

Taking a new angle the judge said: "We hear a great deal these days about the malignant influence of the sixteen-year-old flapper. I hope I shall not shock any of you when I say that I do not worry so much about the sixteen-year-old flapper as I do about the forty-year-old flapper, the man or woman who is without pride of ancestry or hope of posterity so far as he or she is concerned, and who cares nothing for either the public weal or private woe."

It is refreshing to know that the distinguished judge reckons men, as well as women, in with flappers. It is true there are among this horde of contestants for public attention those who wear clothes of more or less masculine pattern. But it is hard to be obliged to confess that the flapper does not cease to flap when the passage of many years has been counted over his or her head.

Winifred Black

Many things can be endured for a short term. The folly, the mistakes in taste, which are so natural to youth, can easily be forgiven, if they promise to be of brief duration. You can think of the flapper of fourteen or sixteen: "Oh, it will soon be over!" While you smile and try to hide the vexation and sometimes the disgust that comes over you as you watch. But when it comes to the flapper of thirty and forty and even older, it is different.

The learned judge was right. There isn't anything more tiresome, to speak lightly about it, than the flapper of forty. And going further, what a waste it is of human material the pursuit of flapperdom by grown-ups.

They Talk Continually

Grown-up flappers are in evidence in city and country, in the tiny hamlet where the coming and going of a railroad train is the chief event of the day, and out in the farming community—go where you will you see these ancient and-mistaken flappers of forty.

How tiresome is the repetition of all the silly ways, the habits of dress and of speech, the time-killing manners of these caricatures whose presence we have learned to endure.

We tell a good deal about ourselves in the models we choose to copy. The woman who finds herself earnestly mimicking the voice, mannerisms and dress of the poor little flapper girls of any age should look out for herself. The adoption of the crass stupidity of the silly years is too much of a strain on any one who has reached years of discretion.

Of the male flapper one hesitates to speak—too silly, too small, are the scenes in which he moves; the thoughts he has, the language he speaks. But there is mischief in that soulless interior and in the unmeaning habits the male flapper exhibits.

They are most in evidence—flappers, feminine and masculine—in city streets and public places. They talk continually, but never say anything. Their appearance is usually heralded by a series of shrill exclamations and giggles. But we all know them, although most of us have not thought enough about them to discriminate between the flappers of sixteen and the flappers of forty. But now it must be confessed that the middle-aged flappers are the most disagreeable and inextinguishable. They are the most hopeless, too, for they can't be put out to boarding school, and they are beyond the age of hope.

The learned judge in California has added to the grief of the nation by reminding us of the existence of the flapper of forty and declaring him, and her, to be a greater menace than the sixteen-year-old kind.

HOME-MAKING HELPS.

"Everything About the House Helps to Make the Home"

By WANDA BARTON

Here Are Novel Ideas for the Decoration of a Nursery.

NOVEL ideas for nursery decoration are always of interest to mothers, who make a point of keeping the nursery up-to-date and a place where children can always discover something new, to interest and amuse them. These changes are not necessarily expensive, but they must be clever. Children appreciate cleverness much more than we give them credit for doing and they dislike shams perhaps more intensely than grown-ups do.

One of the most novel ideas is the hand-painted wall. The wall of the room should be properly primed and painted a neutral color for a background or soft gray or a warm tan color then a dash should be painted, starting at the baseboard and running to about the height of the old chair-rail. Or the dado may be made to form a wide band, fourteen to eighteen inches in width, centering on the chair-rail space. At the baseboard and at the ceiling there is then painted a three-inch border of solid color in a deeper shade of gray, or tan, whichever color forms the background color of the wall. The ceiling may be either a very pale gray or delicate tan.

The painting on the walls illustrates a favorite book in most cases. "Alice in Wonderland" or "Through the Looking Glass" are favorites and make most attractive borders. The figures in the story are single, in groups, or in familiar scenes from the story. The Mad Tea Party may be done with the table at which Alice sits with the March Hare, the Hatter and the Dormouse, the paintings following the pictures in the books. The lobster quadrille, the story of the famous tart theft of the Knave of Hearts and the sad story of the Mock Turtle told to the first-mentioned book. The famous battle of Tweedle Dum and Tweedle Dee, the fall of Humpty Dumpty and the garden of live flowers also make fascinating subjects for the artist's brush, and yield endless merriment for the children. Of course, fairy stories and standard nursery lore also may be depicted by painting, line drawing, silhouettes, stenciling, cut outs and in wall paper bordering, which may be gotten at a few specialty houses.

One very clever at-home artist used a combination of methods in decorating her wall that may afford suggestions to others. After the painter prepared the wall in a warm tan color, she did what she called a "Friendly Highway" across the space, the height of the chair-rail, just right to meet the eyes of those of low stature. This highway was bordered by a low brick wall and the easily-recognized figures strolled along, perched on the wall or strayed into the field at either side and leaned over it, interested in the passers-by. Road, fields, wall, trees and flowers were painted. The figures were cut-outs. The effect was novel and entertaining.

There are, of course, many modern nursery papers if one does not care to do original painting. The only objection to the papers is the repetition of the patterns at certain spaces while painting depicts new scenes in each instance.

Draperies and slips may be made of unbleached muslin or art linen and are embroidered or stenciled to match the subject of the painting on the walls. The furniture should also be painted to match.

Now when it comes time to do over the room, the wall may be washed, then after the stronger colors are removed with paint-remover, the foundation may be painted over and redecoration painted on—not a serious trouble or expense.

Playing boxes with upholstered covers—the boxes on castors—have become nursery features. In the first place, they instill habits of order by providing a place for everything, and they also furnish seats, which are away with useless furniture. Rustic bird, rabbit and squirrel cages are also featured as nursery specialties. They are done in Japanese designs that are quaint and very attractive. The squirrel cage is re-enforced with a skeleton of wire that cannot be gnawed through, even by this busy pet.

YOUR HEALTH

Why "Myocarditis" May Follow Another Disease

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.,
United States Senator from New York,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

MAKING up the chief substance of the heart walls is the muscular structure called the myocardium. As a matter of fact the powerful muscle fibers furnish a large part of the heart tissue.

We are familiar with the various forms of inflammation attacking the muscles of the trunk and limbs. The pain and other symptoms of muscle inflammation make a combination which we describe as "rheumatism."

When inflammation attacks one of the voluntary muscles it is not so important because the suffering muscle can be put at rest by bandaging. But when an involuntary muscle—one over which the will-power has no control—is diseased, it is a different story.

Inflammation of the heart muscle is called "myocarditis." It is a disagreeable and serious disease. Some diseases, probably most diseases, are primary diseases. By this I mean they are diseases which strike directly at some structure or organ, without involving other tissues beforehand. In the manner that pneumonia attacks the lungs.

Fortunately for us the heart, an organ so vital to our happiness and life itself, is guarded from attack. With most people it never shows a sign of disturbance throughout a long life. If we could so live as to avoid the preventable diseases, there would be few cases of heart disease. Myocarditis is always secondary to some other ailment. Just look at the long list of diseases which may be followed by myocarditis. In this list we find diphtheria, tonsillitis, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, influenza, pneumonia, measles, tuberculosis and pneumonia poisoning. There are others, but this gives you an idea of why certain diseases are treacherous and highly dangerous.

There are two types of myocarditis, the acute and the chronic. It is the first, the acute form, which we will consider to-day. This is one of the causes of sudden death. Do not be alarmed, because myocarditis need not necessarily be fatal, but, as I have said, it is always serious.

Rapid pulse, irregularity in its beat and low blood-pressure are among the symptoms. Pale, vomiting, restlessness, fainting and pain in the chest are other familiar symptoms.

Absolute quiet in bed is necessary. This should be insisted upon until the pulse is normal. It is not safe to permit any exercise till trifling causes no longer excite the heart.

Two or three weeks after the irritable heart has settled in a normal way, the victim may be up and about. From this time forward he can gradually increase the amount of his daily exercise.

Ultimately the heart returns to normal action.

A.—No, there is no preparation for this purpose. Tanning is a natural condition to some people, while other people burn in the sun.

M. A. D. Q.—About one year ago a small hard swelling appeared on the top of my foot. It has grown slowly and is very painful at times. Several physicians have advised my having this removed. Do you think it advisable that I should?

HEROINES OF HISTORY

Significant Incidents in the Lives of Famous Women

By MARK STUYVESANT

Some of the Things We Know About Brunhilda.

IN the sixth century, King Athanasius was ruler of the powerful Visigoths. To make an alliance with this monarch was the desire of all surrounding nations. For to be his friend was far safer than to be his enemy.

It was with a jealous eye that Sigebert, king of the Austrasia, regarded any attempt on the part of his contemporaries to sue for the hand of Brunhilda, the beautiful daughter of the king of the Visigoths.

But the dashing and impetuous Sigebert won the hand of Brunhilda and there was much rejoicing at Metz when there took place the marriage ceremony which united the two kingdoms. And it was made even more important by the fact that at the time of her marriage Brunhilda embraced the Christian religion.

Chilperic, the brother of Sigebert, ruled over the west Frankish kingdom and when he was informed of his brother's brilliant and diplomatic marriage, he was filled with rage, for he had hoped to win Brunhilda for himself. His fury was so great that there came a war between the two brothers and the peoples over whom they ruled.

It was as a loving and dependent wife that Queen Brunhilda lived during her husband's life, and at his death she was thrown into prison by the treacherous Chilperic.

Brunhilda escaped from her dungeon at Rouen by marrying the son of her captor. Thus she gained her freedom and secured safety from assassination, which had been her husband's fate.

Then it was that Brunhilda turned from a shrinking and timid woman into a leader. Immediately she plunged into politics and laid her plans to hold the reins of power in her own hands by ruling for her sons.

This power she even extended until she demanded to rule in the name

Sigebert Won Brunhilda.

of her grandchildren and even her great-grandchildren.

However, when she attempted to rule over not only Austrasia but Burgundy also, she was plunged into a fierce conflict with the nobles of both countries.

To aid them in their fight against this dauntless woman the nobles summoned Clotaire the Second, King of Neustria, who soon conquered her and her forces and subjected her to fearful punishment.

Not content with torturing the indomitable queen, he caused her to be killed in the most barbaric fashion.

The great Brunhilda was lashed to the heels of a wild horse. In this way ended the life of one of the strongest characters of the history of that dim epoch.

Brunhilda left a name which has been held in high regard all through the centuries which have passed since she lived, because her energies were not directed solely to the acquisition of power. Brunhilda was a very religious woman and spent much of her time and money in good works. These charitable activities of Brunhilda were acknowledged by many letters from Pope Gregory which he sent to her, blessing her for the help she rendered her church.

Tradition has it that many fine castles were erected by Queen Brunhilda and her name is preserved on one of the old Roman highways.

Automobiles, said to have been driven by Roy Brown and Mrs. Tom Ralston collided late Monday on Bank street, when one was turning behind a street car. Both machines were damaged.

Mr. Brown's home was said to be in Hattiesburg, Miss., and he was reported en route to Jacksonville, Fla. None of the occupants were hurt.

WASHINGTON AS A MASON.

Alexandria, Va., was chosen as the site of the $4,000,000 George Washington Masonic National Memorial because the first president was the first Worshipful Master of Alexandria-Washington Lodge No. 22 of that city, which is just across the Potomac river from the national capital. This lodge is the custodian of many priceless relics of the Father of His Country and he owns the famous Williams portrait of Washington, by many considered the most truthful of all the many portraits of him extant. The cornerstone of this imposing edifice will be laid Thursday, November 1, 1923.

Every one of the 17,000 Blue Lodges in the United States will be officially represented at Alexandria, Va., on Thursday, November 1, when the cornerstone of the George Washington Masonic National Memorial is to be laid amid impressive scenes. All the Grand Lodges of Masons also will be represented at this ceremony and the largest number of American Masons ever gathered at any one time is expected to be present. Alexandria is just across the Potomac river from Washington, D. C., and near Mount Vernon, General Washington's residence.

At My Age—62

My Youth Cream keeps this baby skin

By Edna Wallace Hopper

Thousands upon thousands of women have asked me to tell what cold cream I employ. They see me with a girl's complexion at the age of 62. It is even softer, even rosier than 40 years ago. Yet my life has been lived in the limelight. And I served France for five years in the rigors of the war. A French Creation. French experts perfected this cream for me many years ago. It contains both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that science knows to soften, whiten, smooth and feed the skin. Neither I nor my friends have ever found a cream to compare with this. The expert makers tell me it is the greatest cream produced. So I have arranged to have them make the identical cream for you. It is called Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream. All drug stores and toilet counters now supply it at 50c per jar. They also supply my Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. Also my White Youth Clay—the best word in facial clay. Also my Hair Youth, to which I owe my heavy, lustrous hair. My Beauty Book comes with each. Go try my Youth Cream. Learn how it excels all others. Then I think you will want all the beauty helps which have done so much for me. Edna Wallace Hopper, Business address, Waukesha, Wis. fedaarosa oSaturdayeven, the g.

Remember?

It isn't such a far stretch for memory to recall the day when you had to wait for a long, clear, cold spell of weather before you could have sausage.

Today?

No wait for weather or seasons. Just telephone your meat dealer.

SCENIC BEAUTIES AND STRONG CAST FEATURE OF
NEW SELZNICK SPECIAL STAR TODAY.

Photographed amid the wonderful scenic beauties of the Lake Louise region in Banff, Canada, the latest Selznick production, entitled, "Conquest," will be remarkable for its settings of natural charm if for nothing else, but the patrons of the Star theatre who attended this photo play, house yesterday saw in addition a well directed and entertaining screen drama, with the various roles enacted by a cast that were ideally selected for their various roles.

The plot revolves around the central figure of William Crombie, a millionaire who has everything that money can buy. But the fly in the ointment is that there are lots of things that cannot be purchased by gold. The love of his wife is one of these.

His neglect has brought them to the parting of the ways, and he goes on a hunting trip to forge for a time his domestic difficulties. Becoming lost in the wilderness, he is rescued by a woodsman. Crombie repays by trying to steal the man's sweetheart. When the man offers to fight him for her, and Crombie refuses, the girl spurns him as a coward, and he sees himself in his true light. How he overcomes both his physical and spiritual weaknesses is then shown in a manner that is at once interesting and often thrilling.

W. B. Davidson plays Crombie and Hedda Hopper the role of Mrs. Crombie. Others in the cast are: Betty Bliburn, Maurice Costello, Charles Gerard, and other prominent players.

Burton George, director, and he has accomplished a most noteworthy screen production.

New York Letter

NEW YORK, October 2.—An anonymous gift of $150,000 is to give our city a first open air theatre. The site has been chosen on the Speedway at 167th street, and plans are being worked out by the Department of Parks, which will give a beautiful setting for plays and pageants, with a seating capacity for an audience of nearly four thousand people. Benches of cut stone or concrete will be placed in a semi-ampitheatre, with a panoramic sweep of the Speedway and the river stretched before it. The theatre is being planned after those of early Greece. There will be a flat stage with dressing rooms underneath. In addition to dramas, operas, pageants and concerts, the theatre will be used for patriotic meetings, and for review of water carnivals, and boat races on the river below.

To paraphrase an old title, "New Wives for Old" is now not only a possibility but a fact daily realized. One might say that "society is changing its face." The fact is that with the greatest recent developments in plastic and cosmetic surgery, New York society women who are not content with the quantity or type of beauty allotted to them are resorting to the surgeons to give them Grecian noses, rosebud mouths, ears that cling closer to the head, beautifully shaped eyebrows and every other detail of facial beauty. Dr. J. W. Amey, of the Amey Institute, New York, one of the pioneers in this work, is perhaps the central figure in this craze for new faces. His arduous task is to remedy every facial defect from an irregular alignment of the eyebrows to that conglomerate facial cataclysm that only a mother could love. Snub noses, camel noses, broken noses; the double chin and the rhinoceros enter his door, and from it emerge Venuses, Hebes, and Dianes, all the goddesses of the Pantheon to abide a forgetful world. "Beauty is an asset and facial malformations are liabilities, this is the explanation of it all," according to Dr. Amey. "A pleasing appearance increases self-reliance, efficiency, and good temper. Men seem to be quite as insistent as women in this regard."

Our Metropolitan Housewives League has embarked on an energetic drive against the high price of coal. The housewives have just completed a house investigation in neighborhoods where families supply their own heat and they report a general lack of coal or of definite prospect of getting any. They have set $14.10 a ton as a justifiable price and are determined to make a fight to secure it for small users at that figure.

William Faversham and Emily Stevens are back on Broadway and are playing together in a sophisticated comedy, by Rudolph Resler and May Edington, entitled "A Lesson in Love." We are tremendously glad to welcome their return, especially on the same stage and in a thoroughly enjoyable play. "It is the story of a debonair French adventurer, one Captain Brique, who startled English Society by his unconventional ideas and his directness in setting them forth. We think he would have startled American society fully as much, but he succeeds in being convincing in the hands of these authors and actors."

A great sky-scraper is going up close to my office. Every time I get provoked at the ceaseless din of the riveters, I go out on the street and look up to its rising skeleton, and get a happy kick in watching one of the workmen. He is a veritable Adonis to begin with and is one of those persons who looks better in hard working clothes than the average tea hound appears in his sartorial splendor. To heighten his effect he wears a tall slant, jauntily cocked on one side of his head with exactly the same style as that achieved by the Prince of Wales when he wears a tall hat. My workman keeps on his hat throughout his day, even into the lunch time. It is his way of having fun on the job and is expressive of the humor which I am sure lurks within him. I imagine under no circumstances would this man take an unfair view in a labor question. He manages to get some fun out of life and people who are not given to smallness in any thing.

Hank White, with Coburn's Minstrels, Mañonic Theatre, Thursday Night, Oct. 4th.

Wheat
is the Fuel
of Life

You can get the most food value out of wheat by eating bakings that are made from good plain flour. A dependable baking powder must be employed or you do not get the full nutritious value of the wheat—not will your bakings be as palatable and easily digested.

The same results cannot be had if you use Self Rising Flour, or any so called ready-to-use substitute for plain flour and good baking powder. Food authorities and physicians agree that bakings that do not raise properly are bad for the health. Such foods are hard to digest and in time cause stomach trouble.

Mothers who are interested in the proper growth and health of their children (and all mothers are) should never use anything but a good brand of plain flour and a time-tested leavener such as Calumet—the economy Baking Powder.

Calumet has more than the ordinary leavening strength. It raises every baking to its height of nutritious value. It is pure and dependable—do not look for a substitute—there is none.

Use Calumet and be positive of wholesome nutritious and economical foods.

Cut the Cost of Production

Profit in dairying depends to a great extent on reducing the cost per gallon of producing milk. Cows on pasture slip down in milk flow. Experienced dairymen have found they can produce more milk at less cost per gallon, by feeding a little concentrate.

With Cow Chow you can cut the cost of production per gallon, you can put your cows in better condition and get a longer milking period.

Hundreds of dairymen are using Cow Chow to lower milk costs. Cow Chow contains just the right proteins to balance grass and to make it produce more milk.

Cow Chow will make your milk checks bigger and lower the cost of producing the milk per gallon.

"Make Hay Now" in Daily's Big Campaign

vice will mean the loss of many thousands of votes to you. The largest votes are scheduled for the first period less with the second period, with still another reduction for the third, fourth and final period.

All new candidates should avail themselves of this opportunity to get the largest votes. This is particularly true of those who have not sent in their names, but who figure on doing so. While the campaign is open to anyone at all and the nomination period will not close for some time yet, it must be remembered that votes alone will win the big prize on the night of November 17, and that those who hope to find their name on the list of winners, handed in by the judges should take advantage of every opportunity for vote getting. Hence now is the ideal time to send in the nomination blanks so that the greater results can be obtained in the point of votes.

Candidates are requested not to await until the last moment Saturday night before coming to the campaign office with all subscriptions they have secured during the week. The close of the first vote period is sure to bring a large crowd to the campaign office, so the workers are asked to report as early as possible in the week, leaving for Saturday evening only those subscriptions that have been taken during the last few hours of Saturday.

OLD MINES GIVE NEW GOLD.

CORRACH, Germany—Gold diggers are working again along the Eder River in pits which have lain idle since 1885, and there is great excitement in this principality of Waldeck over reports which say they have made on the red clay taken from the old diggings.

Dr. Beyschlag, president of the Institute for Geology, has studied the property and discovered that under the archaic methods of the sixteenth century, 70 per cent of the gold in the clay was lost. By using chlorine and other solvents the amount of gold obtained from one ton of clay has been as high as 1 1/4 ounces.

GENERALS PREPARE FOR HARD CONTEST

LEXINGTON, VA., Oct. 2.—Setting down to a week of hard practice in preparation for the Washington and Jefferson contest this week-end, Coach DeHart had his men on the field until a late hour this afternoon, correcting weakness displayed in the Western Maryland game Saturday, and instructing them in defensive play. A long scrimmage session with the first year aggregation, in which the varsity played defensively, occupied the greater part of the time, and later the men were sent to the mat where they punished the tackling dummy severely.

A lengthy blackboard study held the attention of players last night, when the General's mentor explained in detail the offensive play to be launched against the "Presidents" of W. and L. While the squad, as a whole, is confident of giving the Red and Black a real fight next Saturday, there is nothing to cause an undue feeling of optimism. With three regulars missing from the lineup, and others on the temporary list of injured ones, the coaches must devote a great deal of attention to grooming men for the absentees if found necessary. The loss of Tucker, brilliant halfback was a heavy blow to the Generals and a worthy successor to the West Virginian is not to be found in the local camp.

Practice the first three days this week will be in the nature of scrimmage sessions, with a gradual tapering off as the week comes to a close, and the team takes its departure Friday evening. As the time for the contest nears, interest continues to increase, and the contest right now looms up as one of the most important on the 1923 schedule. Just what DeHart will use against the Pennsylvanians remains a problem to all, except those who are fortunate enough to be admitted inside the closed gate. Washington and Lee has great confidence in DeHart, however, and those in close touch with the situation feel that the resourceful pilot of the White and Blue will be ready when the whistle blows Saturday.

The "Dinner Problem" That Suddenly Confronted Madge.

"DEAR GIRL"—Lillian's letter began—"I've almost finished a whole corridor floor of the Winter resort which is supposed to be paved with good intentions. But, as you know, I hold the penmanship in delayed correspondence. However, you've forgiven me before, and I am trustfully counting on your good nature."

I paused in my reading for a reminiscent, indulgent smile. Lillian is undoubtedly one of the most exasperating correspondents one could find in a lifetime of search, but she has so many lovable ways that her fatidic find it impossible to become irritated over her dilatoriness.

"I am coming home sooner than I anticipated," the letter went on. "Robert is planning a trip to Europe, taking his sister with him. It is quite a sudden decision, and they will go within the next two weeks. Naturally, Mrs. Cosgrove will be exceedingly busy with her preparations, and I feel that Marion and I subtract much from her already limited time, although she is so kind and courteous that she will not agree with me. But I am coming home the twentieth, reach New York entrance of the tubes about five o'clock. No use trying to meet me, for those trains are uncertain at this season. But I will take a taxi directly over to your apartment. I would go to a hotel without troubling you, but I have had experience in evading your wonderful insistence hospitably before, and I now meekly obey your orders always to come to you wherever you are."

"Until the Twentieth"

"Marion is wonderfully well, as am I. The sojourn here has done us both untold good. I feel like a husky section boss with a new piece of track to lay. I am so anxious to get back to work!"

"Until the twentieth then, lovingly, Lillian."

I read the letter over again slowly, and then turned for the third time to the paragraph concerning Robert Savin's projected European trip. Then I laid the letter down and sat staring into space, trying to visualize the situation which Lillian's letter so adroitly glossed over.

TENNIS STARS TO WED.

LONDON—Two young tennis stars have started a tennis "love match" by becoming engaged. These are Miss Evelyn Colyer, who aroused much interest this year, and M. J. D. P. (Pat) Wheatley, who played in the Davis Cup team against Spain, and won the English covered courts championship.

These groups of stockholders illustrate the rapid growth in ownership of the Bell System.

A COMMUNITY OF OWNERS NATION WIDE

"Who owns the company?" "What is behind it?" These questions are asked in appraising the soundness of a business and in determining its aims.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company is owned by more than 270,000 people living in every state in the Union. Could the stockholders of the Bell System be gathered to one place, they would equal the population of a city about the size of Providence or Denver.

They constitute a representative cross-section of American citizenship. Among them, of course, are bankers and men of large affairs; for the idea of ownership in the Bell System appeals to sound business judgment and a trained sense of values.

In this community of owners are the average man and woman, the storekeeper, the clerk, the salesman, the professional man, the farmer and the housewife—users of the telephone who with their savings have purchased a share in its ownership. The average individual holding is but twenty-six shares.

No institution is more popularly owned than the Bell System, none has its shares distributed more widely. In the truest sense it is owned by those it serves.
